

Move Against Cancer Africa

A beacon of Hope for Cancer Patients in Abuja and beyond

Move Against Cancer Africa (MACA), a distinguished non-profit organization based in Abuja, Nigeria, whose mission is to help create an Africa where cancer will no longer be considered a death sentence, has continued to make remarkable strides in cancer advocacy, awareness, education, and research. Renowned for being a powerful voice for cancer patients, MACA has extended its impact beyond Nigeria, representing Africa on global platforms and collaborating with leading cancer organizations worldwide.

At the National Hospital Abuja, MACA has been an unwavering partner in driving patients' advocacy, navigation, and satisfaction within the oncology and radiotherapy departments. Through a close partnership with NA SO E BI Public Health Awareness Foundation and the hospital's laboratory team, the organization has played a pivotal role in ensuring efficient sample collection and timely delivery of test results—an effort that has significantly enhanced the overall patient experience.

On November 29, 2024, MACA in collaboration with

NA SO E BI Public Health Awareness Foundation joined forces with the Laboratory Department of National Hospital Abuja to celebrate the contributions of outgoing intern scientists in the department. The occasion also served as a platform to honor partners and interns for their exceptional dedication and contributions to advancing cancer care and patient satisfaction. Awards of recognition were presented to individuals who have demonstrated unwavering commitment to initiatives that prioritize patient-centered care, including conducting surveys and supporting cancer patient navigation programs. The event highlighted the power of collaboration in ensuring that patients receive timely, compassionate, and comprehensive care.

Move Against Cancer Africa continues to exemplify the transformative impact of advocacy and collaboration in the fight against cancer, inspiring hope for patients and families navigating the challenges of cancer treatment.
