RAISING A GODLY GENERATION

KEEP YOUR GATE CLOSED, IT IS NOT YET TIME

Edited By Aunty Comfort

My Counsel today will be for girls, ladies and women. There will be a separate article for the boys and gentlemen. Please develop self-control. Read to the end so you can understand why I said this. You will do well to share also with other people in your circle. Another word for 'self-control' is 'self-discipline'. Proverbs 25:28 says that the person who does not have control over her life is like a city with broken walls. If you are not disciplined as a lady, you will open up your spring of life to cruel invaders. If it is every time you 'feel like' having sex that you are looking for someone to meet the need, you will have serious problems a time will come that no stapler will be able to hold your broken heart together. I remember several years ago, a 14-year-old beautiful girl came to me that she wanted me to have sexual intercourse with her; I was about 17 years old at the time. I wasn't born again as at then but something inside me was scared of doing it. Even though I felt like doing it, my heartbeat got very fast, my body was shaking at the sight of free sex but I didn't oblige. I can't really remember how I left her that day but I did not succumb to her request; I am sure it was God who kept me from doing that great wickedness.

About 2 years later, this beautiful lady became pregnant while in Junior Secondary School. That was the end of her study. So sad! Sadder, however, is that the guy who impregnated her did not stop his own school, he continued schooling but for her, no secondary school would allow a pregnant teenage girl in the classroom. Her problem was that she did not have control over her emotions, her sexual urge and she was like a city without wall, without gates, opened 24/7 to invaders. Please allow me to talk to you my beloved sister; Do you know you will be more affected negatively if you engage in premarital sex? If you know, I think you are supposed to close your laps till you marry; if you don't know, now I am telling you.

Read on! Do you know you are the one who will get pregnant when you indulge in premarital sex? If you do, I think it is wise to just close your legs for now; Do you know you are the one who is at risk of abortion with its complications? If you do, I think it is wise and honorable to say no to that guy's request for sex; unless he's a rapist, he will not force you if you say NO and walk away. If you decide not to do abortion after getting pregnant, do you know you are the one who will go around the street carrying big tummy up and down when you don't have a husband? If you know, you should be disciplined enough to ensure your wall is kept tight and not invaded by people who only are attracted to your body and not your 'good heart'; Do you know you are the one that your parents will likely throw out of the house because you disgraced them? If you do, you are supposed to be more careful; Do you know you are the one that will likely stop going to school because of pregnancy? Since you know, you should make efforts to put your sexual urge under control and say, "Hey sexual urge! calm down, it is NOT yet time!";

What about sexually transmitted infections... Have you ever realized that nature has designed your private part to be like a 'receiver'? Have you thought about this? If you have, then you are supposed to be careful, therefore, of what you receive, when you receive it and from whom you receive it. Your private part is not expected to be opened for reception of ANYTHING until you marry and when you marry, it is expected to receive things from only one person, your husband.

You will be a wise lady/woman if you keep your wall intact and your gate closed. This will prevent your spring of life from being invaded by merciless invaders. Even if you have been invaded before now, you can rebuild your wall today and keep your gate closed again till you marry. I hope you have been instructed? Feel free to share with your others! Remain blessed - with your gate closed!
