President Bola Tinubu must act now and fast

The marauding menace of kidnappers and bandits terrorizing the nation is quite alarming and unless urgent measure is taken the days ahead are largely unpredictable. The activities of these terrorists and criminals are becoming so daring that Nigerians can no longer sleep with their eyes closed. Everywhere including the Federal Capital City is not safe and nobody is spared from government officials, security agencies and even the common man on the street have become victims and targets. The criminals are having a field day and Nigerians are beginning to wonder if there is a government in charge of the nation. The kidnappers appear to be succeeding in hounding citizens of the nation anywhere anytime and collecting ransom from their loved ones who are already impoverished by the harsh economic situation in the country. The Security Agencies are doing their best but it appears their best is not good enough. Many Nigerian believed that the best thing to do in the prevailing situation is for the President to declare a state of emergency against insecurity in the country. This will help the country to make far reaching decisions and channel all efforts and resources towards combating headlong the scourge once and for all for peace and sanity to return to Nigeria. This is the time for President Tinubu to move and act fast. Nigeria can no longer allow the lives of her citizens to be sacrifice on the altar of incompetence and dereliction of responsibility. Nigerians are tired of excuses and rhetoric's. The primary responsibility of every government across the world is the security of lives and properties and over the years the Nigerian Government has failed in this onerous responsibility to the people. The APC administration of President Bola Tinubu should wake up and do the needful. This issue has taken the cover of our March 2024 edition with a caption; Nigeria under Bandits, Kidnappers Siege; Nigerians demand results.

The times are very difficult for Nigerians and there are pockets of protest here and there about hardship and hunger. During a recent visit by the First lady to Kano State the Emir of Kano Aminu Ado Bayero told her to help communicate to her husband that there is alarming hunger and insecurity in the land. This is a direct message as it is obvious that most time our leaders behave and act as if they are ignorant of the plight of the common man. Let us hope that Madam Remi will deliver the message. Your regulars are here for you to read in this super edition.

See you again next month. Remain blessed,
