

A Bad Taste, a Poor Start!

His Excellency; Nyesom Wike!

Some basic functionalities of MFCT are cited below; we expect you to abreast and concern yourself with these; consider them first, before actions or activism ruins our expectations.

Namely; the expectation, is that:

1. You concern yourself first to the basic & fundamental needs of your host communities, and their ageing facilities in FCT, (these are facilities that support lives), and the residents of FCT.
2. You make available to us, a consistent supply of clean, healthy, drinkable and affordable pipe borne water across the city centres and the various area municipalities.
3. You ensure durable, accessible & functioning road networks within the main city centres and the suburbs of each municipality.

4. You foster, promote and domesticate the SDGs targets and contents, e.g. accessible, affordable, conducive and modern learning centres, that are considered available educational institutions to our wards and in the same expectations employ qualified and professionally trained teachers
5. You replicate, a spread in all communities of FCT, an adequately well-equipped healthcare centres, furnished with advanced medical facilities
6. You deepen the concepts of clean environment, interactive, non-threatening, and safer neighborhoods, why projecting an all-inclusiveness.
7. You facilitate the development of sporting activities and facilities, with model recreational parks and relaxation centers across the nooks and crannies of the city.

Abuja is not a replication of Port Harcourt.

Be humane and diplomatic; see more than you talk.

Here, chaos is our energy and fuel, in this city ministers don't call the shots, the bulk stops on the desk of Mr. President, who ultimately, may likely trade you in for a compromise deal.

This will be done to facilitate the guarantees of his political interests.

Your job here should begin with harmonious, convivial, courtesy, courting for a support platform from your host communities.

Be humane, with a friendly posture and be relational in your public engagement.

Sir, you have got to put your best feet forward. Threat don't work here! Abuja is a collegiate of mix urban professionals, it has more of intellectuals than commoners, e.g. retirees, civil servants, and politicians etc. What works here, is communicative appeal, cordial understanding, cooperative platform and collaborative synergy. Threats can only work in riverine areas, where the people see less, e.g. exposure, education, experience, expertise. May I remind you sir, that, Abuja is an elitist society, devoid of sarcasm and archaism. You need to adopt, adept and adapt into the mainstream's narrative of its people. You need a quick retrogression, in the immediate, as you proceed furthermore. Do a self-awareness, self-development and self-assessment & appraisal and see what works here; and focus on these factors: Rehabilitation, Reintegration and Reformation.

Retreating now is self-help, tailored to proffer adjustable solutions: self-adjustment, self-adaptation and pay attention deeply to details subsequently. A ministerial retreat and tutelage may not court it, it can only serve as a refresher course, and may likely not address the salient behavioral dysfunctions apparent.

Your success and drive depend largely on your self-management and leadership competencies.

Your speech with MFCT Staff that was widely televised and circulated nationwide, are words spiced with verbose arrogance and boisterous claims.

It smacks of one, who is filled with resentful anger, bottled-up malice and intense need for retaliation. This will not in any way impact us. Here, the law courts are final arbiter. There are killjoys who can render you and your office incapacitated as a puppetry workshop and ensure its so; legally speaking, not sneaking now. They will make it inactive for the next 8yrs, until you park up and leave the scene, with your head bowed.

Countless court summons will flood your office, it will be, the new norm, dropping in through various courtrooms, with all parties ask to maintain status quo, until the determination of the cases.

Your boss Mr. President, his attention when fully drawn-out, will sacrifice you as a scapegoat, a necessary evil! Let us cut the chase and go deeper into my submissions and likely solutions! Can we deepen slightly into the narratives?
